Moments like these occur rarely in human history.

The futures we had planned must suddenly be rethought. We have an obligation and opportunity to reimagine the future.

Some of the world's foremost thinkers in strategy, innovation and leadership are convening to explore what the future of our organizations, economy and society might be.

On April 6th/7th we hosted a virtual summit welcoming more than 2,000+ leaders and professionals from 50+ countries, offering guidance to navigate through times of unprecedented uncertainty.

The summit donated more than $80,000+ in proceeds to charities supporting populations most impacted by COVID19: children who no longer have access to hot lunches, hourly workers no longer with income, and the elderly most at risk medically.

We welcomed on our stage Paul Krugman, Roger Martin, Rita McGrath, Scott Galloway, Whitney Johnson, Alexander Osterwalder, Safi Bahcall, Amy Webb, Salim Ismail, Liz Wiseman and many others, who volunteered their time to speak.

What was a crazy idea initially is turning into a global movement- and all of that happened in just two weeks.

Responding to a huge demand from both business thinkers wanting to volunteer and speak, as well as leaders and professionals globally wanting to learn and engage, we're extending the summit with one extra day.

On May 6th, we'll continue the conversation with a 24-hours summit "Reimagine The Future" and you can be part of it.
